Detroit College Promise has fiduciary

By Sherri Begin Welch

The Youth Development Commission in Detroit has agreed to serve as fiduciary for the Detroit College Promise until it is granted its own nonprofit status.

Detroit College Promise is beginning to collect donations at www.detroitcollegepromise.org toward the four-year college scholarships it's initially offering to graduates of Cody High School in Detroit.

The organization plans to expand the program as funds become available. The scholarships will pay 65 percent to 100 percent of tuition and fees at a Michigan public college or university, based on the number of years the student has attended Detroit Public Schools. The organization has raised $50,000 to date.
